Description

In our Simatic PCS 7 basic course, we provide comprehensive instruction on efficiently and systematically implementing your automation tasks using a range of engineering tools. Through a series of practical exercises on a PCS 7 plant model, you will enhance your theoretical knowledge and gain hands-on experience. This approach allows you to immediately apply your newly acquired knowledge in real-world scenarios. By the end of the training, you will possess the skills to configure and parameterize a PCS 7 plant, create SFC sequence controls, and effectively analyze simple faults using the diagnostic options available. Our aim is to equip you with the practical expertise to confidently navigate PCS 7 and successfully implement your automation projects.

Target group

Project planners, programmers, commissioning engineers, maintenance engineers.

Requirements

Basic knowledge of automation technology is desirable.
